
Policy on Drugs and Alcohol

Northwestern

Federal laws mandate the creation and maintenance of academic and working environments free from illicit drug use and alcohol abuse. Northwestern University fully supports the objectives of these laws and their companion regulations.

The policy statement the University issued in March 1989 to comply with the Drug-Free Workplace Act of 1988 is contained in this document as well as in the student code of conduct. University regulations pertaining to alcohol and drugs are also found in the Faculty and Staff Handbooks. All these remain in effect. This booklet, the Northwestern University Policy on Drugs and Alcohol, provides further amplification of the policy statements in the student and employee handbooks; these handbooks can be found at northwestern.edu/communitystandards/student-handbook and northwestern.edu/hr/essentials/policies-procedures/staff-handbook.html.

This document is pursuant to the Drug-Free Workplace Act of 1988 and the Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act Amendments of 1989. It is intended to ensure the University's satisfaction of its legal obligations under that legislation.

Northwestern University policy prohibits the unlawful possession, use, distribution, sale, or manufacture of illicit drugs and alcohol by its students and employees on University property, as part of any University activities, in vehicles owned or operated by the University, or at any work site or other location at which University duties are being performed by Northwestern employees.

Likewise, Northwestern University is committed to maintaining a drug-free workplace in compliance with applicable laws. For employees (including student employees), violation of this policy may result in the imposition of employment disciplines defined for specific employee categories by existing University policies, statutes, rules, regulations, employment contracts, and labor agreements. Should any staff member come to work under the influence of alcohol or drugs, the staff member may immediately be sent to a clinic for evaluation or placed on unpaid administrative leave. Any employee convicted of a drug offense involving the workplace will be subject to employee discipline up to and including termination of employment.

As a condition of continued employment, employees of Northwestern must notify their supervisors within five business days of conviction for a criminal drug offense involving the workplace. Supervisors will be responsible for notifying the appropriate HR consultant. In the event any such conviction involves an employee working on a federal contract or grant, the University will notify the granting or contracting federal agency within 10 days of receiving notice of a conviction.

The use of alcohol and other drugs may pose serious health risks and, moreover, is related to secondhand effects including absenteeism, poor academic performance, crime, and illness or injury. Medical care for students is provided by the Northwestern Medicine Student Health Service (847-491-8100 in Evanston; 312-695-8134 in Chicago), and health promotion services for students are provided by Health Promotion and Wellness (847-491-2146). Counseling services for students are offered through Counseling and Psychological Services (847-491-2151). Employees are encouraged to contact the Northwestern Employee Assistance Program (888-881-5462). Faculty may contact the Faculty Wellness Program for consultation and referrals by emailing the staff at facultywellness@northwestern.edu. Services and programs available to the Northwestern community are described in Appendices A and C. For information about Northwestern's Community Alcohol Coalition, see Appendix B.

For more detailed information on the health risks associated with substance abuse, please consult Appendix D, a US Department of Education summary, prepared by the US Department of Justice, of health risks associated with alcohol, and Appendix G, a summary of health risks associated with controlled substances.

Various Illinois and US laws govern the possession and distribution (trafficking) of drugs and alcohol. See the following appendices:

- Appendix E provides the Illinois sanctions for various alcohol violations.
- Appendix H, from the US Drug Enforcement Administration, shows the penalties under federal law for trafficking in controlled substances and marijuana.
- Appendix I provides the federal penalties for illegal possession of a controlled substance.
- Appendix J Reserved
- Appendix K describes the sanctions for trafficking in controlled substances under Illinois law.
- Appendix L lists the Illinois penalties for trafficking in or possession of marijuana.
- Appendix M describes the Illinois sanctions for possession of a controlled substance.

In addition to the sanctions listed in the appendices, the following additional penalties are prescribed by Illinois law:

- Conviction of a second or subsequent offense under the Controlled Substances Act may result in imprisonment, a fine, or both, up to double the maximum otherwise authorized. A prior conviction under federal law or the law of any other state makes a conviction under Illinois law a second offense.
- Conviction for “cannabis trafficking” of 2,500 grams or more or for “controlled substance trafficking” (i.e., bringing these items into Illinois for purposes of manufacture or delivery) may result in a prison term of at least twice the minimum and up to twice the maximum term otherwise authorized and a fine of up to twice the authorized amount.
- Delivery of a controlled substance by a person over 18 to a person under 18 may result in imprisonment for up to twice the maximum term.
- Delivery of cannabis (marijuana or hashish) by a person over 18 to a person under 18 who is at least three years younger may result in imprisonment for up to twice the maximum term.
- A person over 18 who uses another person under 18 to deliver controlled substances may be imprisoned for three times the maximum term.
- Violation of provisions of the Controlled Substances Act in, on, or within 500 feet of the grounds of any school or public housing complex will increase the felony status (and prison term) and the applicable fine.
- Participation in any conspiracy with respect to cannabis may result in imprisonment for two to five years and a fine of up to $200,000 plus certain forfeitures.
- Possession of cannabis plants may result, depending on the number of plants, in prison terms of up to 15 years and fines of up to $100,000 plus costs.
- Conviction under the Controlled Substances Act or the Cannabis Control Act, in addition to all other penalties, may result in a fine of not less than the full street value of the items seized.

The following appendices provide information for Northwestern campuses not in Illinois:

- Appendix N provides information on drug and alcohol laws in California.
- Appendix O provides information on drug and alcohol laws in the District of Columbia.
- Appendix P provides information on drug and alcohol laws in Florida.
- Appendix Q provides information on drug and alcohol policy in Qatar.

In addition to possible prosecution under the aforementioned laws, students or employees who violate the prohibitions of this policy are subject to University-imposed disciplinary sanctions consistent with applicable procedures and regulations. Sanctions may include, but need not be limited to, suspension, exclusion, termination of employment, or referral to appropriate authorities for prosecution. Any disciplinary sanction imposed may also include the completion of an appropriate rehabilitation program as a condition of reinstatement or continued employment. See Appendix F for Northwestern’s guidelines for educational, disciplinary, and restorative responses to alcohol and other drug policy violations by students.

Northwestern University will regularly monitor its drug and alcohol abuse prevention program to determine its effectiveness, to implement any necessary changes, and to ensure that its disciplinary sanctions are consistently enforced.

Note: In January of 2020, use of cannabis in the State of Illinois became legal under Public Act 101-0027. However, cannabis remains illegal under federal law. Moreover, as previously noted in this document, Northwestern University complies with the federal Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act, which requires a drug-free campus community. Therefore, Northwestern University prohibits the possession, use, manufacture, cultivation, dissemination, and storage of cannabis by students, faculty, staff, and visitors on all of Northwestern University’s campuses and properties and at University events.

Counseling and Psychological Services

Northwestern's Counseling and Psychological Services provides counseling, crisis intervention, consultation, and outreach services for the University's students, including services related to drug and alcohol abuse. CAPS offers a variety of treatment alternatives depending upon the level of intervention needed.

Students seeking such assistance from CAPS are screened during an assessment interview for their level of alcohol and substance use. Based on the initial consultation and/or assessment, CAPS may refer students to community resources specializing in alcohol or substance abuse treatment. For students covered by Northwestern's student insurance plan, CAPS professional staff may authorize use of that policy for inpatient, day-hospital, or outpatient services. In cases where a student is referred to outside resources and CAPS has written authorization from the student to release information, CAPS professionals may consult with the student's treatment providers and serve as professional resources for both the student and the provider(s), helping to arrange medical withdrawals, medical clearance for reentry, and follow-up services at CAPS or in the community.

CAPS professionals are also available for consultation with others in the University community who are concerned about a student's use of alcohol or drugs and will assist them in planning how to refer that student for assessment and treatment. CAPS also collaborates and consults regularly with the Office of Health Promotion and Wellness.

For more information about CAPS on the Evanston and Chicago campuses, call 847-491-2151 weekdays from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. At other times, reach the 24-hour on-call counselor by calling 847-491-2151, following the prompts to reach the answering service, and requesting to speak with the CAPS counselor on call.

Northwestern Medicine Student Health Service

Northwestern Medicine Student Health Service (formerly called Northwestern University Health Service) has served the Northwestern student community since 1912. NMSHS provides conventional medical care and preventative health services to undergraduate, graduate, and professional students. Full information on available services can be found at the Health Service website at northwestern.edu/healthservice-evanston.

Health Promotion and Wellness

The mission of Health Promotion and Wellness (HPaW), a unit of the Dean of Students office, is to create and support a health-promoting campus through advocacy, intentional collaboration, collective impact, and programs and services. In addition to programs and services designed to improve overall student well-being, HPaW offers individual and group alcohol and other drug (AOD) education and misuse prevention services. HPaW uses evidence-informed and innovative strategies to develop students' knowledge, attitudes, and skills and to foster a campus environment that supports healthy behaviors and reduces harmful behaviors. Complete information about HPaW can be found at northwestern.edu/hpaw. Additional information related to AOD education and misuse prevention can be found at northwestern.edu/aodresources.

Periodic surveys assess student health behaviors, and data are disseminated through training sessions, educational workshops, and other presentations. Select AOD data dashboards are also available at northwestern.edu/aodresources.

The following are some of HPaW's AOD misuse prevention, education, and outreach offerings. Additional trainings and outreach efforts occur throughout the year by request for various groups of faculty, staff, and students.

- AlcoholEdu for College is a web-based alcohol education program required of all incoming undergraduate students before matriculation.

- BASICS (Brief Alcohol and Other Drug Screening and Intervention for College Students) is a confidential, nonjudgmental personal “check-up” about alcohol and other drug use. Students may self-refer to BASICS by contacting HPaW at 847-491-2146 or hpaw@northwestern.edu. Students who violate AOD policy may be required to attend BASICS as an educational intervention.
- Red Watch Band Training is a bystander intervention program presented primarily by peer educators with staff support when necessary. Red Watch Band equips students with the knowledge and skills necessary to identify and intervene effectively in an alcohol-related medical emergency. Students may register for training at northwestern.edu/wellness/hpaw/services/outreach-education/programs-trainings/index.html.
- eCheckUpToGo for Alcohol and Cannabis are brief online assessments available on the HPaW website at northwestern.edu/wellness/hpaw/services/individual-services/e-check-up-to-go.html. Students can complete these free, anonymous assessments at any time and receive immediate personalized feedback on their consumption patterns. Students have the option to meet with a counselor or health care professional to discuss their results and substance use by contacting HPaW at hpaw@northwestern.edu to schedule an appointment. Students who violate AOD policy may be required to complete eCheckUpToGo as an educational intervention.
- Prescription Drug Abuse Prevention Course is available upon request and covers base-level information on opioids, stimulants, and depressants; proper prescription drug use, storage, and disposal; the science of addiction; and debunking common myths as well as simulations for practicing refusal and bystander skills.
- The Alcohol and Other Drug Resources website, northwestern.edu/aodresources, provides students, parents, faculty, staff, and neighbors with a hub for information, policies, programs, and services related to alcohol and other drugs.

For students who have experienced sexual violence, whether or not alcohol or drug use was involved, the Center for Awareness, Response, and Education (CARE) provides information about resources and options, including counseling, healthcare, reporting, and more. CARE also provides training and educational workshops on preventing and responding to sexual violence and on sexuality and healthy relationships. For more information about CARE, visit northwestern.edu/care.

Northwestern University's Community Alcohol Coalition was developed to address the issue of alcohol abuse among Northwestern students. The coalition's charge is to

- Identify the key issues associated with alcohol abuse at Northwestern through an inventory of current efforts and environmental scans
- Develop a strategic plan to mitigate high-risk behavior, which is to include, but is not limited to, efforts in prevention, early intervention, policy and enforcement, and marketing measures
- Suggest changes to existing policies, programs, or protocols to reduce high-risk behavior
- Emphasize the use of evidence-based and -informed practices, which have demonstrated success in reducing high-risk drinking and the associated harm
- Support the development of and monitoring of data points to measure the success of the strategic plan

Current coalition information and reports can be found at the Northwestern Alcohol and Other Drug Resources website at northwestern.edu/aodresources.

Any employee of Northwestern who has a drug or alcohol problem is invited to contact the Northwestern Employee Assistance Program to obtain confidential information about assistance. Assistance includes referrals for assessment, comprehensive inpatient and outpatient treatment programs, and follow-up programs, including self-help groups. The Northwestern Employee Assistance Program counselors can also meet with Northwestern departments to provide substance abuse education programs. These programs include information on risk factors and resources that can provide assistance.

Offices are located near the Evanston and the Chicago campuses and throughout the metropolitan Chicago area and northwestern Indiana. Call 888-881-5462—24 hours a day, seven days a week—to schedule an appointment or to speak with a counselor. For additional information, visit northwestern.edu/hr/benefits/well-being/programs/employee-assistance-program/index.html.

Northwestern's Faculty Wellness Program offers assistance to full-time faculty members who are experiencing difficulties in their professional or personal lives, including drug or alcohol abuse. The program offers free consultations for Northwestern faculty members to identify appropriate resources for personal and professional concerns. Resources may be offered over the phone, or the faculty member can meet with the director for further discussion, including referral for mental health or substance abuse services. Faculty may contact the Faculty Wellness Program by emailing the staff at facultywellness@northwestern.edu. For additional information, visit northwestern.edu/hr/benefits/well-being/programs/faculty-wellness-program.html.

Alcohol consumption causes a number of marked changes in behavior. Even low doses significantly impair the judgment and coordination required to drive a car safely, increasing the likelihood that the driver will be involved in an accident. Low to moderate doses of alcohol also increase the incidence of a variety of aggressive acts, including spouse and child abuse. Moderate to high doses of alcohol cause marked impairments in higher mental functions, severely altering a person's ability to learn and remember information. Very high doses cause respiratory depression and death. If combined with other depressants of the central nervous system, much lower doses of alcohol will produce the effects just described.

Repeated use of alcohol can lead to dependence. Sudden cessation of alcohol intake is likely to produce withdrawal symptoms, including severe anxiety, tremors, hallucinations, and convulsions. Alcohol withdrawal can be life threatening. Long-term consumption of large quantities of alcohol, particularly when combined with poor nutrition, can also lead to permanent damage to vital organs such as the brain and the liver.

Mothers who drink alcohol during pregnancy may give birth to infants with fetal alcohol syndrome. These infants have irreversible abnormalities and mental retardation. In addition, research indicates that children of alcoholic parents are at greater risk than other youngsters of becoming alcoholics.

Florida state law prohibits the possession of alcoholic beverages by persons under age 21. Violation of this offense is punishable by a definite term of imprisonment of up to 60 days and/or a $500 fine; a subsequent offense is punishable by a definite term of imprisonment of up to one year and a fine of $1,000. Possession of alcoholic beverages by a person under age 21 may also result in curtailment of driving privileges. No person may sell, give, serve, or permit to be served alcoholic beverages to a person under 21, and it is unlawful for a person under 21 to misrepresent his age in order to obtain alcohol. Violation of either of these offenses is also punishable by a definite term of imprisonment of up to 60 days and a fine of $500. Misrepresentation of age may also lead to curtailment of driving privileges. See FL Statute Sections 562.111, 775.082–083.

Under state law, it is a crime for any person to possess or distribute controlled substances/drugs as described in Section 893.03, Florida Statutes, except as authorized by law. Punishment for such crimes ranges from first-degree misdemeanors (up to one-year imprisonment and up to a $1,000 fine) to first-degree felonies (up to life imprisonment and up to a $10,000 fine). Specifically, possession of fewer than 20 grams of marijuana is punishable with imprisonment of up to one year and a fine of up to $1,000; possession of more than 20 grams of marijuana is a third-degree felony with imprisonment of up to five years and a fine of up to $5,000. Trafficking (distributing specified large quantities of various controlled substances) is punishable by a term of imprisonment of up to life and a fine of $25,000 to $500,000, depending on the particular illicit drug and the quantity involved. Thus, possession of fewer than 28 grams of cocaine is a third-degree felony, while possession of more than 28 grams of cocaine—trafficking in cocaine—is a first-degree felony, punishable with a fine of up to $250,000 and imprisonment of up to life without eligibility for early release. The death penalty may be imposed if a person has brought large quantities of the substances into the state knowing the result would be the death of any person.
